

WHY BE LATE FOR THAT LECTURE?
UNIVERSITY HOTEL
 is central, comfortable and convenient
TERMS MODERATE
 Excellent Cuisine
BEST ALES AND SPIRITS ALWAYS ON TAP
 Phone: MW 186.

Union Spirit

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE SYDNEY UNIVERSITY STUDENTS' REPRESENTATIVE COUNCIL
 Vol. III, No. 4. WEDNESDAY APRIL 8, 1931 (Published Each Wednesday During Term.)

Film Society Fixtures
Friday, April 10
Betty Compton
 in
"Woman to Woman"

COMMEN. WEEK

Programme Definitely Settled

BALL FOR CHARITY

Conductor for Song Practice

Definite arrangements for Festival Week were made at a special meeting of the Representative Council held just before the Easter recess. In consequence of information from the Vice-Chancellor to the effect that Commem. Week had been fixed as the last week in term the programme already mapped out had to be revised.

AERONAUTICS.

G. A. TAYLOR MEMORIAL LECTURES

The Senate of the University has appointed Mr. T. D. J. Leech, B.Sc., B.E., M.I.A.E.E., A.M.I.E. Aust., Lecturer in Civil Engineering, University of Sydney, to give the inaugural course under the G.A. Taylor Lectureship.

The lectures will take place at 8 o'clock in the evening on Wednesdays, April 8, 15, 22, 29, May 6, 13, 20, and Friday, May 22, the first seven in the theatre of the P. N. Russell School of Engineering, and the final lecture in the large hall at Science House, Gloucester and Essex Streets.

At the first lecture on Wednesday, April 8, an inaugural address will be given by Sir Henry Barraclough, K.B.E., V.D., B.E., M.I.C.E., M.I.M.E., Dean of the Faculty of Engineering.

The lectures will be illustrated by means of lantern slides and exhibits. Admission will be by ticket, 5/- for the course, or 1/6 for single lectures, free for the last lecture, which is free. Tickets will be procurable at the door, from Angus and Robertson, Ltd., Dymock's Book Arcade, Moore's Book Shop, and the University.

Syllabus of Lectures.

April 8. Introductory remarks—Sir Henry Barraclough.
 The Technical Development of Aviation in Australia—Mr. Leech.

April 15. The classification of aircraft; the development of air transport from a statistical point of view; the aerodynamics of aircraft engines; aerodynamics and the engineering problems associated with them; general features of aircraft performance; the properties of the atmosphere; lighter-than-air craft.

April 22—Lecture 3. The principle of dynamical similarity. Determination of expressions for lift, drag, thrust, torque and thrust. Prandtl's law for foils and hulls. Streamline and turbulent motion. Bernoulli's theorem.

April 29—Lecture 4. Aeroflows. The modern theory of aeroflows. Slits and pilot, planes. The Katzmayr effect. Some applications of the aeroflow theory.

May 6—Lecture 5. Resistance—profile and induced drag. Skin friction. The boundary layer theory and its applications.

Body drag; resistance of undercarriages, seaplane floats, and flying boat hulls.

The "Townend" ring. The elements of interference.

May 13—Lecture 6. The functions of the stabilising surfaces of an aeroplane. The elements of their effect. The dynamics of flight.

—Purely Delightful
 —Delightfully Pure!

When you say "Here's health!" in Penfolds, you make the truest statement of your life.

FROM THE CROSS-BENCHES.

Union Night.

The second session of the Union House for 1931 was marked by unprecedented scenes of energy and rhetoric. As members filed into the Chamber it was clear that something unusual was about to happen. The cold, gaunt faces of the Conservatives contrasted grimly with the passionate glare of the Communists, and the presence of three motions on the table foreboded excitement. As soon as Mr. Speaker had opened the session, the Member for Rodgers cleared the table and his throat, in one movement, and in a passionate undertone moved "That free coffee be supplied to all visitors at inter-Faculty debates." After the hon. member had resumed his seat the Minister for Tradition (the Right Hon. A. S. Peacock) coldly inquired whether there was such a thing as a visitor to an inter-Faculty debate. This query evoked considerable frenzy from the Communist Party, and opinions of several of the older members of the House were eagerly sought. Several actual cases were recounted where a visitor had been refused admission to inter-Faculty debate, and on the strength of those assurances the motion was put and carried.

After the simmering of the coffee question had subsided, the Minister for Pessimism (the Hon. B. Crawford) arose in due dignity, and moved "That the Socialist Party forthwith commit hari-kari." An immediate ruling was given to the proposition of the hon. member, and it was demanded that the Member for Bourke, who explained that it was spoken phonetically as Hurri Kurri, should be given to Prince Alfred Hospital, and that the hon. member should be confined from arguing the point. It was speedily put and carried by a huge majority. There then occurred one of the most dramatic moments in the history of the House, as the hon. member for Bourke, including the loyal moderates in the Communist Party, silently grided up the Chamber, and departed from the Chamber, accompanied by the Member for the Swords Club. A touching scene was witnessed when the Member for Bourke, standing with his arm upstretched to the speaker, begged the Prime Minister to join their happy throng. The invitation was declined, and the House stood for three minutes as the far benches.

The Member for Wall then moved "That the Union Board accommodate political groups in the union, and foster political discussion by means of union debates and lectures." The hon. Member urged that the time had come for the University to abandon its attitude of intellectual snobbery, and to welcome wholeheartedly the party politics. Other members, however, were not so sure, and for a time the debate sparkled from side to side. Late in the evening, a very dramatic scene, the Member for Nelson, was led to the table, where he eloquently told of the golden days of the past, and demanded that the members should support the motion in the interests of culture and enlightenment. After the Prime Minister had urged that the motion was unnecessary, the Member for Voisey charmed the House with an account of his melior experiences, the closure was applied, and a division demanded.

As the division bells were echoing down the aisle, and members rushing excitedly from side to side, the Member for Gosper, accompanied by the Member for Smart, tip-toed through the tribune and narrowly stood gazing at the scene of strife. Immediate exhortations arose from either side of the Chamber, and the Member for Gosper, smiling like a boy amidst the maddest of the boys, seeking favour. At last, observing a cold Ministerial frown, he moved hastily to the Conservative ranks. To the undying glory of the British Constitution, the Member for Smart, in partiality joined the Communists, and Justice breathed again. Amid terrific cheers from the Member for Wall and his satellites, it was announced that the motion had been carried by 27 votes to 24. As the verdict was announced, the Member for Nelson was seen to smile peacefully at the baton shouldered in the arms of the Member for Wall.

The time was now 9.45 p.m., and the Speaker announced his intention of calling upon the Chancellor of the Exchequer to open the debate. His announcement was greeted with concern by members, who felt that they should not be too hasty in coming to consider so important a question. Whilst they were weighing the cost of over-haste, the Member for Poole arose and declared himself, as member of the Communist Party, the rightful Leader of the Opposition. This caused a sensation, for the Member for Hancock was observed to be still alive, and his act of Christian self-abnegation in resigning the leadership of his beloved party was widely admired.

Corrigenda.

In the annual report and balance-sheet of the S.R.C., published last week, two matters require correction.
 1. In the report, under the heading "Deaths" for "one of its members" read "a member of the Student Body."
 2. In the balance-sheet, under the heading "Festive Week," in the item "To loss on science, etc., sold at ball," delete the word "sold."
 A report has appeared in the daily press implying that the proceeds from the Undergrads' Ball are to be devoted to the R.P.A. Hospital. This is not the case, and that one fact is decided is that the proceeds are definitely to be devoted to charity; no special object has been named.

PUBLIC NOTICES

WOMEN UNDERGRADUATES. ANNUAL MEETING.

Notice is given that the Annual General Meeting of the Sydney University Women's Undergraduate Association will be held in the Assembly Hall, Manning House, on Friday, April 10, at 1.20 p.m.
 (a) Reading and confirmation of minutes of previous meeting.
 (b) Announcement of results of the elections of Faculty Representatives.
 (c) President's address on aims and objects of the Association.
 (d) Presentation of Annual Report in and Balance Sheet of the Students' Representative Council.
 P. A. TILLYARD, Hon. Secretary.

ECONOMICS SOCIETY.

The Economics Society will hold its first general meeting this year on Friday, April 10, in the Withdrawing Room of the Union, at 8 p.m. The evening will take the form of a social as a welcome to freshmen in the Faculty of Economics. The socials held by the Economics Society have always been a great attraction, and as this is the Society's first this year, a record attendance is anticipated. After the President (Prof. R. C. Mills) has welcomed freshers to the faculty, the evening will be devoted to dancing. All are invited, and all will be welcome.
 H. WIEDERSEIN, Hon. Secretary.

ARTS SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Arts Society will be held in the History Theatre on Monday, April 13, at 3 p.m. In addition to the general business of the society, the members of the proposed amended constitution of the society will be considered. Owing to the nature of the business all men and women in Arts should endeavor to be present.
 Miss A. Marks and G. E. Walker-Taylor, honorary secretaries.

The general approval of the House, however, was forgotten in the haste of the motion to be carried by the Member for Poole. A national crisis seemed inevitable. Whilst Mr. Speaker was refusing in impartial magnificence to enter the arena after points of order, the Member for Thomas (the Member for Thomas) sought a hurried conference with the Prime Minister. When the Speaker had obtained silence, the Prime Minister announced that, in view of the impending disaster, he had agreed to form a temporary Coalition with the Socialist Party, and had granted the Member for Thomas the portfolio of Leader of the Opposition.

While the Communists were busy referring to their differential calculus to decide the true relation between the announcement and the Theory of Relativity, the Ministerial Party moved over to the Ministerial benches, and the Speaker called upon the Chancellor of the Exchequer (the Right Hon. A. W. Gill) to move "That Socialism is a dangerous fancy."

The Chancellor, in a forceful speech, pointed out that Socialism, in destroying the initiative and independence of the worker, struck a deadly blow at the very essentials of progress, and if applied to society must result in total failure.
 The modesty of Communist leaders was again apparent when the Speaker called for the cost for the Opposition to be opened. The Member for Poole in a few simple words called upon the Member for Bourke to make a speech in support of the motion. He did so, and the Member for Poole, in a dramatic monotone to the starving and downtrodden members of his party, whose names he called out, moved to the front at each tragic word. After submitting that Capitalism had failed, the hon. member collapsed in tears, and the Member for Hancock moved the adjournment, which was duly put and carried on the moans.

STORMY MEETING

Our Non-Political Union

DEBATE ADJOURNED

"Political Axe-Grinding"

Feeling ran high at the weekly Union Night meeting in the Union Hall last week, when the following motion was passed by the House: "That the Union Board accommodate meetings conducted by political groups of members of the Union, and foster political discussion through the Union debates and otherwise."

Examinations Unwanted

Possible Action in Adelaide

There is a possibility that the public examinations conducted by the University of Adelaide will shortly be discontinued. Several principals of secondary schools in South Australia have been voicing disapproval of these tests, and the dissatisfaction expressed led to a statement from the chairman of the Public Examinations Board (Professor McKellar Stewart) who said that the whole system was under review. Sir William Mitchell (Vice-Chancellor of the University of Adelaide), at the request of the Universities of Australia, was drawing up a scheme for a common standard of matriculation throughout the Commonwealth. At the same time, the suggestion had been made that the University should discontinue its own intermediate, leaving and leaving home examinations and issue their own certificates, as was done in Melbourne.

Mr. A. Grenfell Price, a well-known educationist, recommended a system under which certificates would be awarded partly upon examinations and partly upon evidence of good, steady work throughout the year. Speaking of the system in England, Mr. Price said that there the great public schools worked upon their own syllabuses without external examinations, and most of their students took the University matriculations (which were often comparatively easy) in given. However, to the best students, these were specially prepared for University scholarships. The new proposal for a uniform matriculation throughout Australia, universities seemed to approach the English plan as the schools would prepared candidates for the university matriculation and the test of knowledge by examination, but would otherwise be free to issue their own certificates or to continue the existing system as they wished.

Concerning examinations within the University, Mr. Price said that as the scope of knowledge being tested increased very rapidly in some subjects, it appeared important for the health of undergraduates that increasing weight should be placed upon practical work and tests throughout the year, in order to prevent augmenting the great strain of the final test. In courses where many failures occurred in later years he felt that the standard of matriculation and of the first year should be substantially raised to avoid as far as possible those occasional unfortunate cases where students had to be advised to go elsewhere or to abandon their proposed profession after they had spent several years of their lives and some hundred of pounds.

Important Announcement

The world is filled with a disease hidden from all save the surgeon. In this striking book a surgeon tells the truth for the first time. To get acquainted with this Moloch of destruction is the duty of every father, teacher, and citizen. "Sex & Disease" provides the opportunity.

Sex and Disease

With introduction by Dr. J. S. Purdy, Metropolitan Medical Officer of Health, Sydney, who says: "I commend this work as an instructive effort at social service."

PRICE, 7/6.
 All Booksellers, or post free from Box 3688 SS, G.P.O., Sydney.

Publishers: John Bale, Sons & Danielsson, Ltd., London

Distributors: Gordon & Gotch (Aust.), Ltd., Sydney.

COMING EVENTS TO-DAY

Film Society Entertainment, Union Hall, 12.30. Christian Union Address, 1.30 p.m., by Dr. T. Z. Eco, Vice-chairman of the World Student Christian Federation. Union Night Debate, Union Hall, 7.45 p.m. Fisher Library Address by the Librarian to Matriculants wishing to use the Library.

THURSDAY, APRIL 9. Faculty of Engineering. Christian Union Meeting, Union Hall, 1.20 p.m. Address by Dr. T. Z. Eco. Baseball Club Meeting, Union Hall, 5 p.m.

FRIDAY, APRIL 10. Faculty of Medicine. Film Society Entertainment, Union Hall, 12.30 p.m. Women Undergrads. Annual General Meeting, Manning House, 1.30 p.m. Union Finance Committee Meeting, Board Room, 1.30 p.m. Musical Society and Glee Club Practice, Philosophy Room, 1.20. Ceremony of Matriculation Great Hall, 4.0 p.m. Union Board of Directors Meeting, Board Room, 5 p.m. Fisher Library Address by Librarian to students wishing to use the Library. Economics Society General meeting and welcome to Freshmen, Withdrawing Room, 8 p.m.

SATURDAY, APRIL 11. Bush Ramblers' Society Excursion to Oxford Falls (via Brookvale).

SUNDAY, APRIL 12. War Memorial Carillon Recital, 3.15 p.m., Mr. J. G. Fletcher. Presbyterian Fellowship Society Tea 5.30, Service 7.15, Scots' Church, City.

MONDAY, APRIL 13. Boxing Club Meeting, Union Hall, 1 p.m. Arts Society Annual General Meeting, History Theatre, 3 p.m. Senate meets. Sports Union

Annual General Meeting, Union Hall, 8 p.m. Women's Union Freshers' Debate: "That this House deplores the proposed formation of New States within the Commonwealth."

TUESDAY, APRIL 14. League of Nations Union Union Hall, 1 p.m. Musical Society and Glee Club Practice, Philosophy Room, 1.20. War Memorial Carillon Recital, 3.30 p.m., Miss Enid Carpenter. Hockey Club Annual meeting, Union Hall, 8 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15. Film Society Entertainment, Union Hall, 12.30 p.m. Union Night Debate, Union Hall, 7.45 p.m.

THURSDAY, APRIL 16. Christian Union Meeting, Union Hall, 1.15 p.m.

FRIDAY, APRIL 17. Film Society Entertainment, Union Hall, 12.30 p.m. Musical Society and Glee Club Practice, Philosophy Room, 1.20. S.U. Medical Society Annual Address and Freshers' welcome Dance, Medical School, 8 p.m. Medical Society Annual Address and Freshers' welcome Dance, Med. School, 8 p.m.

MONDAY, APRIL 20. Manning House Address by Mrs. Muscolo.

TUESDAY, APRIL 21. Musical Society and Glee Club Practice, Philosophy Room, 1.20.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22. Film Society Entertainment, Union Hall, 12.30 p.m. Union Night Debate, Union Hall, 7.45 p.m.

THURSDAY, APRIL 23. Faculty of Dentistry. Standing Committee of Professional Board. Christian Union Meeting, Union Hall, 1.15 p.m.

FRIDAY, APRIL 24. Film Society Entertainment, Union Hall, 12.30 p.m. Musical Society and Glee Club Practice, Philosophy Room, 1.20 p.m.

SATURDAY, APRIL 25. Anzac Day. Public Holiday, University Closed.

SATURDAY, MAY 2. Athletics Club Novice Championship, University Oval, 9.30 a.m. Conferring of Degrees Great Hall, 11 a.m.

MONDAY, MAY 4. Senate meets.

TUESDAY, MAY 5. Musical Society and Glee Club Practice, Philosophy Room, 1.20.

"Honi Soit." WEDNESDAY APRIL 8, 1931.

The Songbook. A WEEK from next Saturday the Chairman of the Songbook Committee will cease to receive contributions for that publication, and the Committee will begin forthwith to allot prizes and to produce a song-book from the material submitted. To the vast majority of students this information will, in all probability, be of no interest whatsoever: the vast majority in any community are usually content to await and criticise the labours of the few. To those who constitute the few, however, we address our remarks, and especially to such of them as are freshers.

This Songbook to which you are asked to contribute, even at the expense of a little time and trouble, is an integral part of the Commemorative festivities, which are themselves an integral part of University life at Sydney. It is written and illustrated by members of the University, and in it the Varsity sense of humour is reflected. In order that the reflection may be a true one, and may show the whole, and not the part, it is desirable to obtain as representative a collection of humorous songs, skits, sketches, etc., as possible.

It should be borne in mind that the published book is sent sold throughout the State. Consideration of this fact induces two thoughts, viz.: The Songbook must be one we can be proud of; also it must pay. Last year hurriedly put together book made a profit of over £100. This year more time has been allowed, and a Standing Committee has been appointed since last year. It now remains for the student body to realise its obligations and assist the Committee to make this year's edition worth while.

MEDICAL SOCIETY New Office-bearers

At the annual meeting of the Medical Society, held on Friday last, the following office-holders were elected:— President: Dr. Frank Flynn. Vice-presidents: Professor J. C. Windeyer, Dr. D. B. Sillar, Dr. W. A. Eys, Dr. A. P. Findlay, Dr. A. Inglis, Dr. W. C. Cunningham, Dr. A. S. Loewenthal, Dr. A. M. Morrow, Dr. F. A. Maguire, Dr. C. A. McDermott, Dr. H. R. G. Poole, Mr. E. Collins, Mr. N. A. Corletto, Mr. W. D. Cunningham, Mr. J. W. L. Priece. Hon. Graduate Secretary: Dr. W. R. M. Drew. Hon. Undergraduate Secretary: Mr. A. D. Gillies. Hon. Assistant-Undergraduate Secretary: Mr. G. S. Flynn. Hon. Treasurer: Mr. J. K. Allen.

FRAISE OF YOUTH

Dean of Yale's Address (Exchange Service.) 'The new paganism' cannot be blamed on modern modern youth," said the Dean of Yale, at a recent address in America. Atheism, infidelity, and free love doctrines may be rampant now, but as a rogue only, said this authority. 'Youth is clean and decent,' he maintained. 'Not their passions, but the berudled counsels of the older generation are swinging the world towards paganism and ruin.' The Dean believes firmly that a change for the better is forthcoming, that the world is beginning to sense its spiritual hunger. Creative thinking and adventurous action are necessary for this, he warned.

AN INVITATION To All University Students YOU are invited to visit the Carlton Hotel, Castlereagh Street, Sydney. You will find that the "Carlton" is becoming more and more popular with University Students. Afternoon teas as featured by the "Carlton" will particularly appeal to University Students. You have crisp, hot, buttered toast, tasty sandwiches, and fresh cakes with either tea or coffee, while the "Carlton" orchestra renders delightful music. The charge is two shillings. After the theatre or pictures at night, the "Carlton" light supper of hot toast with tea or coffee adds a finish to a joyful evening's entertainment. A new A La Carte Menu has been introduced in the Dining Room at greatly reduced prices. Minimum charge, 2/-. Guests are assured of a quick and efficient service. THE CARLTON HOTEL CASTLEREAGH ST. (At the top of) SYDNEY Martin Place.

TRACK NEWS AND NOTES

Track Men are Keen.

Interest is running high in the rapidly approaching track fixtures of the S.U. Athletic Club, which are set for decision at the Oval commencing May 2. Many spirited battles will be assured in the championship contests. Training is now in full swing—a fact which is supported by the splendid attendance of athletes at the No. 1 oval each week-day afternoon. And training spells success, especially when it is combined with style and determination. This statement can be verified by the most mediocre athlete. How to train? That is the question. Each department of athletics will require its own specialised plan, nevertheless, good general conditions should be the primary aim. Legs must be trained gradually. Arms must move in rhythm. Full attention should be paid to breathing. Always remember, too, that an ounce of practice under the guidance of expert tutors is worth a pound of that of the senior men to assist you with your problems.

QUARTER DUEL

One of the tit-bits of the University championships, on May 5, will be provided in the quarter-mile. E. L. Pilkington captured the title last year, winning in 52.2-sec. on a heavy track. St. Paul's Collegian J. H. Broadbent, who was second on that occasion, will be very hard to beat in the coming tussle. His Dunn Shield victory in 49.3-sec. suggests that Pilkington will find it difficult to retain his title.

IMPORTANT

To-day at 4.45 p.m., all roads lead to the oval. Dr. R. S. J. Honner, the club's president, will impart valuable information to athletes, prospective athletes, and supporters. Dr. Honner's practical hints, culled from many years of track and administrative experience, can help YOU. Be at the oval at a quarter to five this afternoon.

Cricketers Busy

University cricketers were in great form during the Easter vacation. Touring with Darvall Hunt's combined team, G. C. Hoeg and J. L. K. Williams batted briskly, Hoeg in particular displaying aggressive qualities. In three knocks he made scores of 39, 52, and 52, and proved himself the star tourist. Williams (22) and Bob Bruce (28) played their parts in stylish fashion. An old friend in Dr. Alex Ross showed that he is far from being regarded as a veteran, by securing six wickets for 47 in the match against Grenfell's representatives. He also hit up 21 off the Cowra bowling. Parsonage Deadly. After starring in the Polden-Gray Shield final, at the Sydney Cricket Ground, by taking eight wickets for 32 runs, Tom Parsonage went for a grand duck when he gave an easy chance to Lee, of Randwick.

RUGBY UNION

Enthusiasm was the feature of the Rugby Club's annual meeting in the Union withdrawing room last night. Deep sorrow was expressed at the unfortunate death of popular coach Dr. "Jock" Morgan. The club anticipates a great year, in spite of several stars' absence. The majority of last year's stalwarts have already commenced training. Details of the meeting, and annual report, will be made available in next week's issue. Practice matches commence on Saturday. Mr. A. K. Kennedy (St. Andrew's College) will supply any information concerning activities.

How Are Your Eyes?

Brain Fog is Mostly the Result of Eye Strain. 10% Discount to Students. D. Shindler, M.I.O. 757 George Street (Near Railway)

Vale, Dr. Morgan.

It is with the deepest regret that we pay our last tribute to popular Dr. "Jock" Morgan, who died last Sunday after a brief illness. A former skipper of the Varsity Rugby Union fifteen, Dr. Morgan, during his football career, achieved many brilliant successes for the University, and the code, on the sporting field. Twice he was chosen to lead Varsity Rugby men in New Zealand tours, and after his retirement was largely responsible for Varsity's high position in district grade football, by virtue of his intensive coaching methods. Quite recently his enthusiasm for football led to an appointment as co-selector to the N.S.W. Rugby Union. Dr. Morgan saw service at the Great War of 1914-18, with the artillery, and was president of the Hunter's Hill sub-branch of the Returned Soldiers' League. All sportsmen are in sincere expressions of sympathy for his untimely demise. "Good night, sweet prince, and flights of angels sing thee to thy rest."

Rifle Club Meeting

After riflemen had held their annual general meeting last week, and had received an interesting report of the past year's activities from the honorary secretary Bill Bell, keen students of the club constitution, detecting flaws in it, had the elections declared null and void. Their tenures and their tricks were highly suspected, but one feels that their critical efforts might have been more fully appreciated had they made their praiseworthy discoveries prior to the meeting. It is understood, however, that the rifle club's executive committee, in order for the next meeting, a ratification of those gentlemen elected to office, and one or two amendments to an antiquated constitution of the club's affairs. Executive officers elected included M. L. Edwards (hon. secretary), R. E. Churchward (hon. treasurer), E. A. Motesworth (captain), and E. L. Gay Breerton (president).

Dr. Utz's Proposal

Tuesday next has been selected as the date for the meeting of the Australian Universities' Sports Association's executive. Although the matter of inter-Varsity sport for the ensuing twelve months is to be thoroughly discussed, it would seem that Dr. Leslie Utz's proposal is to suffer defeat. Naturally enough, Melbourne opposed cancellation. Ambitious for inter-University supremacy, the southern capitalists' sporting men were almost unanimous in their opposition to the proposal. That Adelaide and Queensland have followed this course of action is sufficient justification for the continuation of the series, from our point of view. Their representative teams have never been regarded as serious contenders for the various titles, yet they are keen enough to urge for further battle on the Universities' sporting field.

Sports Union

The Sports Union general meeting and welcome to Freshmen will be held on Monday evening in the Union at 8 p.m.

Meet me at BELFIELD'S Frank O'Grady.

TYPEWRITERS CASH OR TERMS. Standard and Portable Models. NEW OR SECOND HAND. MISS KATHRINE PAGE. 47 HARDIE STREET, DARLINGHURST. Phone F 128.

STUDENTS! Travel by Car from Sydney to— BRISBANE, MELBOURNE, NEWCASTLE, CANBERRA, JENOLAN CAVES, KATOOMBA, BLUE MOUNTAINS, Etc. Daily Services to ORANGE, BATHURST, LITHGOW, MUDGEE, KURRAJONG HEIGHTS Aerial Services to BRISBANE and MELBOURNE Daily. FOR ALL TOURS BOOK WITH: AUSTRALIAN MOTOR TRAVEL BW 7491 10-12 Hunter Street BW 7491 (NEAR GEORGE STREET) PHONE OR CALL FOR DETAILED INFORMATION.

ANDREW'S GOSSIP

Bob McCulloch, former Rhodes scholar, and now resident tutor at Andrew's, had his coaching of the "eight" cut short the other day when a sudden attack of appendicitis necessitated an operation. Bob came through it well, and now lies recuperating in P.A. An ex-representative player and Varsity blue, Bob Pigott, will add strength to the forwards. Bob is also an athletic coach who has had great success with The King's School track men.

MEN!

A SUIT-to-MEASURE £4/14/6

A few months ago, David Jones made history by offering a suit-to-measure for £5. The way in which this offer was taken advantage of was sure indication of appreciation.

Now, through the lowered basic award and a special purchase of materials, they have now been able to still further reduce this same style! All wool Tweeds and Worsteds in the season's very newest shades—types usually 5, 6, and 7 gns., now reduced by David Jones' to only £4/14/6.

Tailoring Dept. Lower Grd. Floor and George Street.

Make Use of These Convenient Services!

- One-day Cleaning and Pressing of Suits and Overcoats. Barber's Shop—Haircut now only 1/6. Reblocking of Hats; Shirts made to order; Tobaccos Blended; Watches Repaired; Visiting Cards and Personal Stationery printed.

USE MORE WOOL IN AUSTRALIA'S INTEREST!

DAVID JONES'

For Service 'Phone: MW 1741.

Kentish Hotel

Right at University Gates A Home for Students at Reasonable Rates BEST WINES, SPIRITS, &c. Every Comfort and Convenience

There is an "Oxford" Model for every grade... every style of player! OXFORD RACKETS The lowest-priced "Oxford"... the highest-priced "Oxford"... each is a leader in its own class. The distinctive finish... the new scientific principles in design and construction... the faithful workmanship... these are features of every "Oxford" Racket. Celebrated by the Tennis World in general as the most distinctive Racket series sold in Australia to-day. For the Beginner... MAINSTAY... COURTGRAFT... PERLA JUNIOR... HAYMARKET... For the Advanced Player... HAYMARKET SPECIAL... HAYMARKET SELECTED... LIGHTNING... BRITANNIC... For the Competition & Tournament Player... OCEANIC... TORNAID... MASTERSTROKE... ROYAL ENSIGN... All letters to Box 18B, P.O. Haymarket, Sydney. MICK SIMMONS LIMITED. HAYMARKET, SYDNEY. "The Leaders in Outdoor Sport and Home Entertainment."

INSIST ON TASMANIAN JAM AUSTRALIA'S BEST